DISTRICT COURT

CLARK COUNTY, NEVADA

LUBA DACE, Plaintiffs, vs. MELVIN GRIMES, BENJAMIN CHILDS, LAW OFFICE OF BENJAMIN B. CHILDS, MARY PERRY Defendants.	Case No: A-25-922833-C Dept. No.: 29 SPECIAL MOTION TO DISMISS UNDER NRS 41.660 (ANTI-SLAPP) (HEARING DATE REQUESTED)

Defendants MELVIN GRIMES and the ROBERTS STOFFEL FAMILY LAW GROUP, erroneously sued as the Law Office of Roberts Stoffel (collectively "Grimes" or "Defendant") by and through their counsel of record at Garin Law Group, hereby move this Court for an order dismissing Plaintiff's Complaint under NRS 41.660 (Anti-SLAPP).

This Motion is based on the following Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the pleadings on file with the Court, the declaration of Melvin Grimes, and any oral argument the Court may permit.

Case Number: A-25-922833-C

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

This is a retaliatory lawsuit filed by a litigant against opposing counsel arising out of communications opposing counsel made in litigation. Plaintiff Luba Dace ("Plaintiff") was represented by many attorneys during her contentious, ongoing litigation against her ex-husband in the case called Gonzalez v. Gonzalez, filed in the Eighth Judicial District Court for the State of Nevada, Case No. D-18-575860-D. Grimes, while employed by the Roberts Stoffel Family Law Group, has represented Plaintiff's ex-husband in this litigation since 2019.

Over the course of Grimes's representation of Mr. Gonzalez, Grimes filed ex-parte motions, filed pleadings, and made oral argument in court. Everything that Plaintiff complains about Grimes is protected pursuant to NRS 41.660 and the absolute litigation privilege. Therefore, this Court must dismiss Plaintiff's Complaint against Melvin Grimes and the Roberts Stoffel Family Law Group.

II. LEGAL STANDARD

A. Standard of Review for Anti-SLAPP Relief

In 1993, the Nevada legislature enacted statutory provisions to protect persons making a "good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition" from being subjected to retaliatory litigation arising from those communications. See John v. Douglas County School Dist., 219 P.3d 1276 (Nev. 2009) (superseded by statute); see also Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.660. The primary purpose of these retaliatory lawsuits, known as Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation or "SLAPP" suits, is "to chill the defendant's exercise of First Amendment rights."[1] Id. (internal citations omitted). In most cases, this is accomplished "by increasing litigation costs until the adversary's case is weakened or abandoned." Id., citing United States ex rel. Newsham v. Lockheed

[1] "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." U.S. Const. Am. 1.

GARIN LAW GROUP

Missiles & Space Co., 190 F.3d 963, 969-70 (9th Cir. 1999).

Nevada's anti-SLAPP statute levels the playing field by providing defendants "with a procedural mechanism to dismiss the meritless lawsuit… before incurring the costs of litigation." Coker v. Sassone, 432 P.3d 746, 748 (Nev. 2019) (emphasis added); see also Nev. Rev. Stat. §41.660(1)(a). Specifically, if a SLAPP action is filed "based upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition … the person against whom the action is brought may file a special motion to dismiss." See Nev. Rev. Stat. §41.660(1)(a).

In analyzing the special motion to dismiss, the Court must first "[d]etermine whether the moving party has established, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the claim is based upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern." Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.660(3)(a); see also Coker, 432 P.3d at 749. There are four categories of speech which constitute "good faith communication[s]" under Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.637:

1. Communication that is aimed at procuring any governmental or electoral action, result or outcome;
2. Communication of information or a complaint to a Legislator, officer or employee of the Federal Government, this state or a political subdivision of this state, regarding a matter reasonably of concern to the respective governmental entity;
3. Written or oral statement made in direct connection with an issue under consideration by a legislative, executive or judicial body, or any other official proceeding authorized by law; or
4. Communication made in direct connection with an issue of public interest in a place open to the public or in a public forum, which is truthful or is made without knowledge of its falsehood.

For a statement to fall within the scope of NRS 41.637(3), "it must (1) relate to the substantive issues in the litigation and (2) be directed to persons having some interest in the litigation." Shapiro v. Welt, 2018 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 1202 (2018) (citing Neville v. Chudacoff, 160 Cal. App.4th 1255, 73 Cal. Rptr. 3d 383, 391 (Ct. App. 2008)).

The Court may consider evidence in deciding a special motion to dismiss. NRS 41.660(3)(d). If the moving party meets this burden to show a "good faith communication," the court must then "determine whether the plaintiff has demonstrated with prima facie evidence a probability of prevailing on the claim." Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.660(3)(b); see also Delucchi v. Songer, 396 P.3d 826 (Nev., 2017). A dismissal under this section operates as a dismissal on the merits. Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.660(4). Further, if the court grants a special motion filed pursuant to NRS 41.660, the court must award reasonable costs and attorney's fees and may award an additional amount up to $10,000 to the person against whom the action was brought. Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.670.

III. SUMMARY OF COMPLAINT

Plaintiff alleges that she was involved in litigation in a case called Gonzalez v. Gonzalez, Case No. D-575860-D. ¶ 9. She was represented by Defendant Benjamin Childs. Id. Grimes who was at all times relevant, employed by the Roberts Stoffel Family Law Group, represented Plaintiff's ex-husband Enrique Gonzalez. ¶ 7-8.

In December 2021, Grimes engaged in ex-parte communication with presiding judge Mary Perry. ¶ 22.

On March 19, 2024, there was a custody hearing in which Mr. Childs was called as a witness and Grimes questioned under cross-examination. ¶ 15.

During the custody hearings on March 19 and October 15, 2024, Grimes made misrepresentations regarding a stipulation. ¶ 35. Grimes also made criminal allegations against Plaintiff during the hearing. ¶ 37-39.

IV. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

On July 9, 2025, Plaintiff commenced this action by filing a Complaint. On July 10, 2025, she filed an Amended Complaint. On July 11, 2025, she filed her Second Amended Complaint. On August 4, 2025, she filed a Third Amended Complaint.

On August 15, 2025, Plaintiff filed a Motion for Leave to File Fourth Amended Complaint, only to file a Notice of Withdrawal on August 22, 2025.

On August 25, 2025, Defendant Mr. Childs filed his Motion to Dismiss pursuant to Nevada's anti-SLAPP statute and for failure to state a claim.

GARIN LAW GROUP

Although it does not appear that Grimes was properly served with the Third Complaint, by virtue of Plaintiff's continuous filing, the Third Amended Complaint is the operative Complaint.

As to Grimes, Plaintiff alleges (1) civil conspiracy, (2) fraud/intentional misrepresentation, and (3) concert of action.

V. LEGAL ARGUMENTS

A. Plaintiffs' Complaint Must Be Dismissed Pursuant to NRS §41.660.

In 1993, the Nevada legislature enacted statutory provisions to protect persons making "good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition" from being subjected to retaliatory litigation arising from those communications. See John v. Douglas County School Dist., 219 P.3d 1276 (Nev. 2009) (superseded by statute); see also Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.660. The primary purpose of these retaliatory lawsuits, known as Strategic Lawsuits Against Public Participation or "SLAPP" suits, is "to chill the defendant's exercise of First Amendment rights."[2] Id. (internal citations omitted). In most cases, this is accomplished "by increasing litigation costs until the adversary's case is weakened or abandoned." Id., citing United States ex rel. Newsham v. Lockheed Missiles & Space Co., 190 F.3d 963, 969-70 (9th Cir. 1999).

The standard of review for anti-SLAPP motions is provided in more detail above. Anti-SLAPP motions to dismiss are not limited to only defamation claims, but any claim related to a "good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition." In analyzing the special motion to dismiss, the Court must first "[d]etermine whether the moving party has established, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the claim is based upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern." Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.660(3)(a); see also Coker v. Sassone, 135 Nev. 8, 11, 432 P.3d 746, 749 (2019).

[2] "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances." U.S. Const. Am. 1.

GARIN LAW GROUP

There are four categories of speech which constitute "good faith communication[s]" under Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.637:

1. Communication that is aimed at procuring any governmental or electoral action, result or outcome;

2. Communication of information or a complaint to a Legislator, officer or employee of the Federal Government, this state or a political subdivision of this state, regarding a matter reasonably of concern to the respective governmental entity;

3. Written or oral statement made in direct connection with an issue under consideration by a legislative, executive or judicial body, or any other official proceeding authorized by law; or

4. Communication made in direct connection with an issue of public interest in a place open to the public or in a public forum, which is truthful or is made without knowledge of its falsehood.

For a statement to fall within the scope of NRS 41.637(3), "it must (1) relate to the substantive issues in the litigation and (2) be directed to persons having some interest in the litigation." Shapiro v. Welt, No. 73943, 2018 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 1202, *8–9 (Nev. S. Ct. Dec. 27, 2018) (citing Neville v. Chudacoff, 160 Cal. App.4th 1255, 73 Cal. Rptr. 3d 383, 391 (Ct. App. 2008)).

1. The Claims Against Grimes Involves a Good Faith Communication.

Plaintiff cannot dispute that the entirety of the Complaint is based on Grimes's representation of Mr. Gonzalez and their right to petition the Court. Plaintiff claims that Grimes's alleged improper conduct was to elicit testimony from Childs. ¶ 50. Her claims that Grimes allegedly "intentionally posed questions during cross-examination," and "Grimes improperly attempted to enforce criminal statutes" all describe statements made during a court proceeding. ¶ 50, 55. Plaintiff further alleges that Grimes made ex-parte communications in December 2021. ¶ 22. This is in reference to a December 15, 2021, Ex-Parte Application for an Order for a Temporary Restraining Order Pursuant to EDCR 5.520 and a December 17, 2021 Ex-Parte Application for an Order to Show Cause [3]. Docket, attached as Exhibit 2; Order Granting Temporary Restraining Order, attached as Exhibit 3; Order to Show Cause, attached as Exhibit 4. At all times relevant, Grimes made these communications in good faith without knowledge of their falsity. Declaration of Melvin Grime, attached as Exhibit 1. As statements made in the context of a family court case, the communications would fall into at least one, if not multiple sections of § 41.637 above.

If the moving party meets this burden to show a "good faith communication," the court must then "determine whether the plaintiff has demonstrated with prima facie evidence a probability of prevailing on the claim." Nev. Rev. Stat. § 41.660(3)(b); see also Delucchi v. Songer, 113 Nev. 290, 396 P.3d 826 (2017). Because the statements that Plaintiff complains about fall under at least one category of the good faith communications, it is Plaintiff's burden to demonstrate a probability of prevailing on her claims. However, as set forth below, the claims are not viable and the Court should grant this motion.

2. Plaintiff cannot demonstrate with prima facie evidence a probability of prevailing on her claims because they are either barred by the statute of limitations or the absolute litigation privilege.

Plaintiff's claim of alleged ex-parte communications is misleading at best. In December 2021, on behalf of his client, Grimes filed two ex-parte motions concerning marital real property. Exhibit 1. At all times relevant, Plaintiff was aware of these motions because she filed a Motion to Set Aside the Order Granting the Restraining Order. Exhibit 1. While Grimes contends that these series of motions are protected by the absolute litigation privilege, the time for Plaintiff to assert damages related to these motions has long passed the statute of limitations. Under NRS 11.190(3), an action for relief on the ground of fraud or mistake must be brought within 3 years of discovery. In this case, the ex-parte motions were filed in December 2021. Plaintiff in fact moved to set aside the orders immediately thereafter. However, Plaintiff only brought this instant

[3] It should be noted that the Plaintiff herself filed an ex parte application to have the records in the underlying family court matter sealed, which the court granted. Order Sealing File, attached as Exhibit 5. All of the communications at issue in Plaintiff's complaint are recorded in documents or hearing transcripts that are under seal.

GARIN LAW GROUP

action in July 2025. Her claims in this regard are untimely and barred by the statute of limitations.

As to the remainder of Plaintiff's claims, they all relate to Grimes's questioning and representations made in relation to a custody hearing that took place in March 2024. Plaintiff cannot prevail in this instant action because all of Grimes's communications are protected by the absolute litigation privilege. Feldman v. 1100 Park Lane Associates, 74 Cal.Rptr.3d 1, 15, 160 Cal.App.4th 1467, 1485 (Cal.App. 1 Dist.,2008) ("The litigation privilege is "relevant to the second step in the anti-SLAPP analysis in that it may present a substantive defense a plaintiff must overcome to demonstrate a probability of prevailing.")

Nevada has long held that the absolute litigation privilege applies to any "communications made in the course of judicial proceedings even if [the communications are] known to be false are absolutely privileged." Clark County School Dist. v. Virtual Educ. Software, Inc., 125 Nev. 374, 382, 213 P.3d 496, 502 (2009) (internal quotations omitted), citing Circus Circus Hotels v. Witherspoon, 99 Nev. 56, 60, 657 P.2d 101, 104 (1983). "[T]he privilege applies not only to communications made during the actual judicial proceedings, but also to communications preliminary to a proposed judicial proceeding." Fink v. Oshins, 118 Nev. 428, 433, 49 P.3d 640, 644 (2002). The privilege is broad. To that end, "a court determining whether the privilege applies should resolve any doubt in favor of a broad application." Clark County School Dist. at 382, 213 P.3d at 502 (internal citations omitted).

The privilege has been applied in a broad range of other claims, including defense of claims for bad faith and breach of fiduciary duty, interference with business relationships, civil conspiracy and racketeering.[4] "The privilege applies as long as the [4] See Jackson v. Bellsouth Telecomms, 372 F.3d 1250 (11th Cir. 2004) (tortious interference and conspiracy to defraud); Crockett & Myers Ltd. v. Napier, Fitzgerald & Kirby LLP, 440 F. Supp. 2d 1184 (D. Nev. 2006) (bad faith and breach of fiduciary duty); Boca Investors Group, Inc. v. Potash, 835 So.2d, 273 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 2002) (interference with business relationships); Kahala Royal Corp. v. Goodsill Anderson Quinn & Stifel, 151 P.2d 979 (Utah 1999) (judicial proceedings privilege extends not only to defamation, but to all claims arising from the same statements).

GARIN LAW GROUP

statements are in some way pertinent to the subject of the controversy." Greenberg Traurig v. Frias Holding Co., 130 Nev. 627, 630, P.3d 901, 903 (2014). The privilege goes as far as establishing immunity for alleged criminal acts. See e.g., Bethel v. Quilling, 595 S.W.3d 651, 657 (Tex. S. Ct. 2020) ("criminal conduct is not categorically excepted from the protections of (litigation privilege)[5] when the conduct alleged is connected with representing a client in litigation. Accord Troice v. Greenberg Traurig, L.L.P., 921 F.3d 501, 507 (5th Cir. 2019) (making an Erie guess that, under Texas law, attorney immunity 'can apply even to criminal acts so long as the attorney was acting within the scope of representation'").

Here, the Complaint focuses on Grimes's statements and attempts to illicit testimony through questioning in her family court case, which in and of itself is protected by the litigation privilege. This is true even if Defendant engaged in conduct or communications that he knew to be false. See Clark County School Dist., 125 Nev. at 374. It is even true if the communications at issue are "alleged to be fraudulent, perjurious, unethical, or even illegal." Kashian v. Harriman, 98 Cal.App.4th 892, 895 (Cal.App.5. Dist). "The policy underlying the privilege is that in certain situations the public interest in having people speak freely outweighs the risk that individuals will occasionally abuse the privilege by making false and malicious statements. On the basis of this policy, the absolute privilege attached to judicial proceedings has been extended to [even] quasi-judicial proceedings . . ." Circus Circus at 61, 657 P.2d at 104 (internal citations omitted). The Complaint does not (and cannot) identify any exception to the absolute litigation privilege. Because the complained of acts are good faith communications that are subject to the litigation privilege, Grimes cannot be liable under any circumstances, so Plaintiff's Complaint must be dismissed.

[5] Youngkin v. Hines, 546 S.W.3d 675, 679 n.2 (Tex. 2018) "Litigation privilege" and "attorney immunity" describe the same doctrine. Citing Troice v. Proskauer Rose, L.L.P., 816 F.3d 341, 346-47 (5th Cir. 2016).

GARIN LAW GROUP

VI. CONCLUSION

Plaintiff's Complaint is an improper attack on Melvin Grimes and the Roberts Stoffel Family Law Group's right to zealously advocate for their client and take part in the judicial process. Everything Plaintiff complains of was done in court with the protections of the absolute litigation privilege. Plaintiff cannot attempt to usurp the family court's authority to issue orders and to control its cases, including the right to sanction counsel's conduct (if appropriate) by filing a separate action against Grimes. This is nothing more than a retaliatory lawsuit that is barred by NRS 41.660, and which requires this Court to issue an award of attorney's fees to Grimes and up to $10,000 against Plaintiff as a sanction for filing a frivolous action. Based thereon, Grimes respectfully requests this Court issue an order granting this instant Motion to Dismiss and award Melvin Grimes and the Roberts Stoffel Family Law Group $10,000 plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs.
